

INNO-CCUS Membership Model

INNO-CCUS offers three levels of involvement: Partner, Contributor, and Member. Partners and Contributors, collectively referred to as Partnership Participants, include all organisations involved in projects funded by INNO-CCUS.

Membership is available to organisations not directly involved in INNO-CCUS projects but interested in engaging with the community and contributing to the partnership's goals and roadmap. Members gain access to INNO-CCUS activities and join a dynamic and evolving network.

Membership requirements

To ensure that all members contribute meaningfully to the partnership and align with its mission, the Board of Directors evaluates applications based on the following requirements as part of an aggregated assessment:

- The applicant must be an organisation (legal entity).
- The organisation must be motivated to actively participate in the partnership and contribute to its development.
- The organisation must actively contribute to the development of CCUS in Denmark and thereby to the realisation of the roadmap.
- The organisation must hold professional expertise and capacities relevant to the CCUS field.

Application process

Membership can be applied for via the submission form on the INNO-CCUS website.

Membership is subject to approval by the Board of Directors at their quarterly Board Meetings and is effective from the day of approval. If an application is received within 10 days of a Board Meeting, processing will take place at the subsequent meeting.

Membership fees

Membership is free for public organisations (e.g., municipalities, government agencies, NGOs, clusters).

Annual membership fees for commercial enterprises:

Fewer than 30 employees	Free
30 - 99 employees	10,000 DKK
100 or more employees	20,000 DKK

Membership fees are non-refundable.

The Membership year runs from 1 June - 31 May. Fees are adjusted proportionally for mid-year joiners.

Fee adjustments can only be made at the commencement of a new membership year.

Membership conditions

Active participation:

Active engagement is a requirement, for instance by participating in INNO-CCUS activities.

Membership is reserved for organisations genuinely interested in engaging with the INNO-CCUS community and contributing to the execution of the roadmap. Using INNO-CCUS forums and activities for other purposes than their intended use is prohibited.

Use of branding:

Use of INNO-CCUS logo and branding is restricted to activities directly related to INNO-CCUS.

Misuse of INNO-CCUS resources, network, or name for unrelated purposes is prohibited.

Project participation

Joining an INNO-CCUS project requires upgrading to a Partnership Participant (Partner or Contributor) status and signing the Investment and Partnership Agreements.

Membership amendments and termination

INNO-CCUS reserves the right to terminate membership for violations of the terms above.

The Board of Directors holds the right to amend the membership terms. Any changes will be communicated directly to members without delay.
